

Researcher: Labour standards, human rights & gender issues

Ergon is growing as we experience ongoing high demand for our services in the field of business and human rights. We are looking for highly motivated individuals to join our expanding team. This is an entry-level position, providing an opportunity to progress through developing consultancy skills and technical knowledge, and to contribute your own ideas.

Who we are

Ergon is a leading specialist consultancy that promotes respect for labour standards and human rights through our work with major international companies, development finance institutions, inter-governmental agencies and multi-stakeholder platforms. We have a sixteen-year track record, an international client list and an expert multi-disciplinary team. We deliver innovative client-focused consulting and research projects that aim to improve the lives of workers and communities. Our offices are located in Central London, UK and Haarlem, Netherlands.

Ergon is committed to diversity and inclusion in the workplace and encourages applications from individuals from underrepresented groups including but not limited to Black, Asian and ethnically diverse people, people with disabilities, and people who identify as LGBTQ+.

The role

Key responsibilities include:

- Conducting focused desk-research and drafting research reports and risk analyses on labour, gender and human rights issues
- Analysing and assessing technical legal and policy documents, as well as quantitative data
- Drafting high-quality written outputs tailored to specific audiences
- Contributing to the development of research methodologies and client-focused outputs
- Participating in interviews with companies, civil society and human rights defenders, international organisations, subject experts and others
- Supporting directors and consultants at client meetings and contributing to presentations

At present, we are mainly working remotely and we would expect successful candidates to work either in the UK or the Netherlands, and must have the right to work in either the UK or the Netherlands. We offer a network of supportive colleagues, the opportunity to progress through the development of transferable skills and experience, and great terms and conditions, including competitive salary, flexible working arrangements and discretionary bonus. Appointment will be initially on a one-year fixed-term basis.

Essential qualifications and experience

- Completed university degree

- One to two years of employment experience relevant to the essential competences below, or a strong academic record in a relevant postgraduate discipline – which could include employment law, human rights law, international development, industrial relations, gender studies.

Essential competences

- Sound conceptual and analytical research skills, including the ability to identify relevant sources and analyse large amounts of complex information quickly and accurately, including both qualitative information and quantitative data.
- High degree of fluency in English (equivalent to C2 CEFR) with excellent written and oral skills
- Well-developed organisational and administrative skills, including ability to self-organise, multi-task and work both independently and collaboratively, and to strict deadlines
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills
- Attention to detail and comfort with complexity
- Commitment to a high standard of customer service relevant for a client-facing consultancy working in a commercial environment
- Demonstrable interest in human rights, labour rights and gender equality and motivation to learn
- Excellent grasp of standard MS office applications

Desirable

- Familiarity with employment rights
- Fluency in another relevant language – particularly Arabic, German, Mandarin, Russian or Turkish

How to apply

Applicants should provide a covering letter setting out why you are suitable for this post and a CV in the same PDF file. Please send to Eva Mian: eva.mian@ergonassociates.net by 08.00 UK time on 25 October 2021.

Ergon Associates Ltd,
Unit 1, 9a Dallington Street,
London EC1V 0BQ,
United Kingdom
+44 20 7713 0386

www.ergonassociates.net

Company no. 5401100